

Data Drop	What assessment(s) informs this data drop?	How is this assessment marked, moderated and feedback to students?
1	Project 1	Green feedback sheets are stuck in books at least once per rotation. These cover 'things you did well, hall of fame, common errors, spelling mistakes and things you need to check. Teacher stamps are used. An assessment sheet that continues across all rotations is at the front of their folder to show grades and progression. An end of project green sheet is also used to support progression from one project to the next.
2	Project 2
3	Project 3

Homework	How is homework used to support learning?	How is homework marked and feedback to students
	Homework is linked to the project, usually a variety of research tasks and analysis.	Green feedback sheets or teacher stamps.

In class and in books	What strategies are used to deliver effective feedback and assessment to students during lessons?	What marking and feedback would we expect to see in an exercise book or folder in this subject?
	Regular retrieval activities as starters, targeted questioning throughout lessons, some peer assessment and self-assessment occurs including that on projects.	Green feedback sheets are stuck in books at least once per rotation. These cover 'things you did wee, hall of fame, common errors, spelling mistakes and things you need to check. Teacher stamps are used. An assessment sheet that continues across all rotations is at the front of their folder to show grades and progression. An end of project green sheet is also used to support progression from one project to the next.

Data Drop	What assessment(s) informs this data drop?	How is this assessment marked, moderated and feedback to students?
1	NEA	Coursework is marked and logged on a spreadsheet to track progress and if meeting target grades. Using the GCSE guidelines. Theory tests are completed at least twice a term.
2	NEA
3	Mock	Marked against latest grade boundaries

Homework	How is homework used to support learning?	How is homework marked and feedback to students
	Homework is based on theory flip learning.	Marked against criteria set for each topic.

In class and in books	What strategies are used to deliver effective feedback and assessment to students during lessons?	What marking and feedback would we expect to see in an exercise book or folder in this subject?
	Regular retrieval activities as starters, targeted questioning throughout lessons, some peer assessment and self-assessment occurs including that on projects.	Green feedback sheets are stuck in books at least once per rotation. These cover 'things you did wee, hall of fame, common errors, spelling mistakes and things you need to check. Teacher stamps are used. An assessment sheet that continues across all rotations is at the front of their folder to show grades and progression