How will studying this subject in Key Stage Five build on learning from Key Stages Three and Four?:

The Christianity section builds on the content learned in KS3 and KS4 and assumes prior understanding to enable discussion around diversity of practice and theology in today's Christianity. The Philosophy and Ethics topics feature prior content and then this content is taken to further depths with the A Level content.

How will studying this subject in Key Stage Five help students to make their unique contribution to the world?:

It will equip students with the understanding of diversity of opinion and debate around theological, philosophical and ethical issues. They will have developed the ability to speak their own views on the issues but have empathy to consider different perspectives and to disagree well. Students will have learned the skills around wider reading, research and study skills to help them effectively respond to exam questions and prepare them for their next steps post-Sixth Form.
